16. OTHER INFORMATION

Special protection information: Moist activated carbon will selectively adsorb oxygen from the air and oxygen concentrations may be reduced rapidly in enclosed or poorly ventilated tanks and spaces. When entering even partially confined spaces containing moist activated carbon, effective ventilation must be provided or a suitable breathing appliance with independent air supply must be worn.

The data contained in this Safety Data Sheet has been supplied as required by the Chemicals (Hazard Information and Packaging for Supply) (Amendment) Regulations 1997, for the purpose of protecting the health and safety of industrial and commercial users who are deemed capable of understanding and acting on the information provided.

The pieces of information of this data are based on our actual knowledge's joining in its last revision. Please ensure that it is passed to the appropriate person(s) in your company capable of acting on the information.
